I've been fortunate to observe a classroom using alternative seating during my student teaching. I observed students stay focused, participate, and have fun during learning. Some of the types of seating that were used included: ball chairs, wobble chairs, and standing desks. All students, including students with ADHD and ADD would benefit from this seating. Due to the fact that 5th-7th grade students do not have recess anymore they will be given the opportunity to move throughout the classroom by using a flexible seating.
